Sustainability in business

with Dr. David Cooke, Konica Minolta Australia

"Sustainability is a part of our DNA", declares the website of Konica Minolta Australia. That is due in part to the leadership of its Australian Chair and Managing Director, Dr. David Cooke, who will be our speaker on August 23.

David is well-known for his leadership in sustainability in Australia, as is Konica Minolta worldwide. The Australian branch of this Japanese business systems and healthcare imaging products company was the first technology company to join the United Nations Global Compact Network Australia in 2016. Under David, Konica Minolta has focused on implementing ethical supply chains and raised the issue of modern slavery, becoming a champion of the Modern Slavery Act which was introduced into Parliament on 28th June 2018.

David will discuss the new model of CSR (Corporate Social Responsibility) and its benefits for companies in any industry.
